NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS, O.—Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown and Assistant Secretary Joe Baird are being kept busy these days answering queries concerning the interpretation of various sections of the primary election laws. Owing to the aggressive contacts which are being waged by numerous candidates great interest is being manifested over the entire state by the electorate as to the outcome of the primary to be held Tuesday, August 14th.

Secretary Brown as usual is desirous of giving the citizens of Ohio full and complete returns as early as possible and his office will be a scene of great activity following the closing of the polls. He has arranged for a special battery of eight long distance phones, over which returns will be received, clerks and accountants being kept on duty all night long. Statistician George M. Neffner will assist Secretary Brown in compiling the returns as fast as received and as there are 8,735 precincts in the state the task will involve a great amount of labor.

The Capital City will play host to the Grand Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles next week, the Ohio State Aerie meeting at that time. The convention will open the week of August 6, the big parade to be held on Thursday, starting promptly at noon. Marching clubs will be present from all over the United States and Canada, it being predicted that there will be from 50,000 to 60,000 in line. Ohio alone furnishing 16,000. The convention committee has received assurances that there will be at least thirty bands and an equal number of drum corps to help enliven the occasion. It probably will be necessary to press private homes into service in assisting to care for the thousands of visitors who will be present for the gala occasion.

Headquarters were opened in the Capital City this week for promotion of the Ohio Business Exposition to be held at the Columbus Exposition grounds, August 14 to 18. The exposition is the largest of its kind ever held in Ohio, and is being held to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of statehood, to be sponsored by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce. The exposition will include display representative of industry, farm, transportation, utility and education. A program of entertainment is to be arranged including music, riverfront fireworks and other features. All Ohio cities will be invited to exhibit.

A human panorama may be witnessed every pleasant evening just as dusk begins in the State House park, frequently referred to as Capitol Square. After the sun goes down the park begins to fill with not only "regulars" but strangers as well. There are men of every nation, creed and color. The argument starts and a governor or president is elected nightly. Affairs of state are discussed and remedies advanced for the nation's ills. Then small groups are harangued by religious cranks, socialists and communists, when the park police are not around. There are also the alcohol addicts and others desirous of stealing a few winks of sleep. One of the latter removed his shoes, rolled them up in his coat and made a pillow of the latter. He slept too sound for when he awoke that part of his wardrobe was missing. His remarks would not have been permissible in polite society. Another poor fellow was on his hands and knees searching in the grass. When asked what he was looking for he replied to "of me glim." Asked what he meant he said, "me lamp, my eye." He later found it and went away rejoicing. It was glass and they cost from $3.00 to $20.00 each.

Col. Chalmers R. Wilson, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, reports that excellent progress is being made in the manufacture of license tags for 1929. The same regulations as adopted by Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown for the issue of 1928 tags, that is, tags will be placed on sale December 1st and will be permitted to be used on and after December 21. Midnight December 31 will absolutely be the dead line on use of 1928 tags. The above regulations are being printed on each and every envelope in which the license plates are enclosed. These regulations have been made for the convenience of the motoring public, permitting the use of 1929 tags on and after December 21 being a considerable improvement over the practice of previous years, in that motorists do not have to change from the old to the new tags within 24 hours.

COOPER SPEAKS IN XENIA

Myers Y. Cooper, candidate for governor in the Republican primary, spoke before 150 people in front of the courthouse in Xenia, Tuesday, in the interest of his campaign.

Cooper was the Republican nominee two years ago but was defeated by Governor Donahy in the regular election. In that campaign Cooper lost his own county, city, Cincinnati, and his ward and precinct. He was regarded as too dry for the Cincinnati people.

This year the Cox-Hynicka wet organization is supporting Cooper and a delegation of the Cincinnati political machine accompanied the candidate to Xenia. The published platform of the Cox-Hynicka crowd endorses "personal liberty." Thus you have Cooper being run as a candidate for governor on the Hamilton county personal liberty platform.

A peculiar situation for a supposed dry candidate and an amusing situation for the wet crowd. Political always has put candidates in embarrassing situations and this certainly is one to wonder about.

Notification Speech By Sec. Hoover

Secretary Herbert Hoover will deliver his notification speech from Leland Stanford university at Palo Alto, Cal., Saturday, August 11, and it will be timed that the entire country can hear it over the radio.

To do this, however, and because of the difference in time between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts Mr. Hoover will have to begin his speech at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. At first glance this seems to be an odd hour to make a campaign speech but inasmuch as this is on Saturday afternoon daytime tollers in San Francisco and vicinity will be free to attend.

More important than that 5 o'clock Pacific time is 6 o'clock mountain time, 7 o'clock central standard and 8 o'clock in the evening central daylight time as prevails in Chicago and other cities. It will also be 8 P. M. eastern standard time in Washington and 9 o'clock eastern daylight time in New York and Boston.

Thus the middle western and eastern sections where Mr. Hoover's mandate will be the heaviest will have the best standpoint than the far west, which he is almost certain to carry anyway.

More radio campaigns is shown in setting the speech on Saturday night inasmuch as there are fewer advertising hours, less contracted time on the air, that evening than any other in the week. Inasmuch as the advertisers pay for the broadcasting of their hours they must be consulted with regard to giving them up.

However, since there are comparatively few of them on that night considerably less shifting will be required to give Mr. Hoover the right of way from coast to coast and border to border, thus insuring him an enormous hookup.

Ohio's Livestock Show Greatest In The World

Acknowledged to be as fine as any in the country, and in some departments, the finest in the world, the livestock show which is the center of such keen interest at every Ohio State Fair has been built up during the administration of the present director of Agriculture, Charles V. Truax.

Livestock men have come to value blue ribbons won at this fair because they realize that the awards are won in competition against a great number of the country's best animals. So great has its prestige grown that whenever there is a conflict in dates it is always to Ohio that the finest exhibits are sent.

To speak of the "million dollar livestock parade" is no empty boast. The animals that go in dignified procession about the coliseum every evening as a prelude to the Night Horse Show, and appear on the race track Friday at noon, are no doubt worth more than that figure. If one considers the stock not included in that parade, the valuable sheep, swine, goats, and poultry, a more accurate valuation would be $8,000,000.

ASK TO SELL PROPERTY

Since the congregation of the Mt. Zion M. E. Church of Jefferson Twp. has become extinct by reason of death and dispersion of its members, the church trustees have filed an application in Common Pleas Court for authority to sell the real estate. Two tracts of ground are described in the application.

Trustees pointed out that the officers of the church, at their regular meeting, decided the land is no longer needed for its original purpose.

Mrs. Nelson Clark (Nellie Lewis) who has been visiting at the home of her parents near Clinton for some weeks, has returned to Pittsburgh, but will again return here in a few days.

NASTY MESS AT O. S. & S. O. HOME IS BEING AIRED

The nasty conditions that surround the O. S. & S. O. Home have again been aired to the public. This time following an investigation by the Welfare Committee of the American Legion comes a demand for the resignation of the members of the Home Board. They are: Marcus Limb, Wooster; Ralph Carroll, Cleveland; W. T. Amos, Sidney; Rell G. Allen, Washington; C. H. and Miss S. Jane Bailey, Wapakoneta. It is said that the four male members of the board have agreed to resign but Miss Bailey refuses.

The situation is again up to Governor Donahy, who has so frequently stated that never once during his governorship has he been called upon to demand the resignation of any state board members. The Home has been in the limelight for several years and first one scandal after another has followed.

Business management of the institution could be no worse from all reports. The educational advantages are rated low and not up to a decent standard. The Legion complains that hygienic conditions are a disgrace. It is advised that the educational department be closed and the Home children placed in the Xenia City schools.

Supt. J. Norman King, who has served just six weeks, has resigned following trouble between him and Supt. C. E. Bureck, head of the Home schools. King's resignation was demanded by the Home Board and at the same meeting Lieut. Col. Charles V. Burton, Cleveland, was elected to become superintendent of the Home on August 4th.

Supervision about the Home has been so lax of recent years that the older inmates go and come as they please in many instances. The social status between boys and girls is reported beyond printed description. More than once during the past few years certain cases have reached the courts, yet neither the board or Governor Donahy interested themselves to improve conditions.

Stories told relative to the letting of contracts in connection with building the new hospital for the insane, the best kind of a scandal, in fact, in safe hands and that such business does not go through the usual methods as would be required in private affairs. The story has been about for some time that one manufacturing concern bid on a certain article but did not get the order. Another party received the order on a bid $300 higher and in return placed the order with the manufacturer that was the original low bidder.

It has also been reported that a bidder for certain equipment was approached to donate $150 toward a certain civic improvement. The bidder was more or less suspicious and upon making an investigation found that no such civic improvement in the town mentioned was under way.

The public is watching now to see just what attitude governor Donahy will take. A year ago when the scandal broke at Wilberforce the Governor ignored it.

Bovine TB Reduced Half In Six Years

Bovine tuberculosis in the United States has been reduced one-half since 1922, according to a map just published by the United States Department of Agriculture. The map is based on four surveys which showed the percent of tuberculosis among cattle to have been 4 per cent in 1922, 3.2 per cent in 1924, 2.5 per cent in 1926, and 2 per cent in 1928.

The survey indicates, however, that there is still much to be accomplished before the campaign may be considered complete. Comprehensive programs of work have been adopted in several states and have been of extreme benefit to the campaign. It is believed that all states should, so far as possible, adopt a definite campaign of work.

Cattle Shipment Brings Top Price

Wilson & Co. packers, purchased 204 head of local fed cattle and shipment was made last Friday to the Eastern market. Frank Townsley had 52 head that showed a gain of 200 pounds in seven months. Other feeders that had big gains were Arthur Cummings, who sold 20; William Frame, 42; Charles Graham, 80. These cattle were all Texas calves and were shipped in last November and have been on feed seven months. Cattle have reached a new peak price.

NEW COMPANY IS INCORPORATED

Incorporated this week was received Monday for the Magnesia Company. The company is known as Curtis, N. Abel, and the incorporators are N. Abel, C. G. Beam and A. J. Woodcock.

The issue is 100,000 shares having no par value and the stockholders of the Magnesia Company have deposited their holdings to be exchanged for stock in the new company. Mr. Abel organized the Magnesia Company six years ago but retired last year to devote his time to developing a new line of business which has been successful. In merging the old company with the new, Mr. Abel will head the new company when it organizes in the near future.

Lucky Summer For Seeding of Alfalfa

Good and evil are all jumbled up for the alfalfa grower this year. A lot of alfalfa, as well as other crops, winterkilled in Ohio last winter. Rains this summer have seriously damaged what was already a short hay crop for this fall and winter. "But if there ever was a favorable season for summer seeding of alfalfa in western Ohio, this is that season," in the opinion of Dr. C. J. Willard, professor of Farm Crops at the Ohio State University. The rains which have been damaging the hay crop at the same time, have also been making a fine reserve of soil moisture which will be available to alfalfa seeded this summer.

A successful seeding alfalfa this summer should make a foot of growth before winter. Then comes the hard part. That growth should not be moved, clipped or pastured. It will be hard to leave it alone when the shortage of hay begins to be felt this fall and winter, but if it is going to amount to anything next year it must be left alone this fall.

For mechanical protective reasons the stems should be left to serve as a mulch over the roots during the winter. But more important is the layer of the growth above ground in order to enable the roots to make their reserves for winter—something which they won't do if the upper growth is cut or pastured.

Thomas B. Walker, Rich Lumberman, Dead

Minneapolis, Minn.—Thomas Barlow Walker, millionaire lumberman, philanthropist and collector, died Sunday. He was 88 years of age. Utilizing his millions to advance the cause of art, Mr. Walker enabled Minneapolis to establish for public inspection one of the largest private art collections in the United States. The Walker art galleries, comprising 8,000 pieces worth approximately $5,000,000 and representing a life time spent in assembling objects from all parts of the world, was given to Minneapolis.

Then, when the city hesitated in arranging for what Mr. Walker considered suitable quarters for the treasured exhibit, the collector, then 84 years old, used a valuable site of his own facing a principal street to build a home for the collection.

For three score years a leading northwest lumberman, Mr. Walker was reputed to have been one of the country's wealthiest men. The deceased left this county many years ago, having lived in Xenia when a young man.

Lieutenant Ross Died In Navy Hospital

Merle Ross, Lieutenant, son of Mrs. F. O. Ross, Xenia, formerly of Cedarville, died at the base hospital navy yard, Fremont, Wash., Monday. He had been ill but a week and had contracted a cold on the vessel returning from Manila that developed into pneumonia. Mrs. Ross was visiting her brother, James, in Kansas City, when the news reached Dr. L. L. Taylor, Yellow Springs, father-in-law of the deceased.

Lieutenant Ross resided in Cedarville for several years during the pastorate of his father as minister of the United Presbyterian Church. He is survived by his wife and his mother.

CASE DISMISSED

The following two cases, having been settled and the costs paid, have been ordered dismissed without record in Common Pleas Court: Cora E. Furnell against The Peoples Building and Savings Co., Xenia. Alexander Elise and others against Cora Furnell and others.

STREETS BEING REMARKED

CONG. J. T. BEGG WILL SPEAK AT COLLEGE OPENING

Congressman James T. Begg, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor in Ohio, will give the address when Cedarville College opens on September 12.

Congressman Begg is a personal friend of President McChesney, the two having been associated together in educational work in various capacities in Ohio. He has the endorsement of the leading educators and school organizations. Having given most of his life work to advancing the educational standard of young folks, he is far from being a millionaire, and of course is not financially able to put on spectacular campaigns for the nomination for governor. He is a man of only moderate means like most common folks.

Reform Organizations Face Charges

A split in the ranks of the Anti-Saloon League and the State W. C. T. U. organizations over political endorsements has brought forth charges and counter charges that rival the fierceness of old time political organizations like the Cox gang in Cincinnati.

E. R. Root, Medina, and Norman C. Sherwood, Fremont, members of the league board, have demanded the resignation of Dr. E. J. Moore, superintendent of the league, and F. L. Dushman, editor of the American Issue.

Two factions of the W. C. T. U. are fighting, one for Cooper for governor and the other for Begg. Charges of financial considerations in the factions of the two organizations is bringing Ohio reform politics to light. A candidate worth millions of dollars certainly can develop the selfish side of human nature.

The Cincinnati wet organization is sponsoring Cooper on a personal liberty platform thus linking the wet leaders in that county directly with certain factions of the League and W. C. T. U.

Flower Show At Home Coming

One of the attractions at the Greene County Home Coming will be the Flower Show which will be held on August 28. The show is open to school children and amateur flower growers. Liberal prizes will be offered and Cedarville township and the entire county is asked to send in the entries by the evening of the 27th.

FILES APPEAL

An appeal from a judgment of R. O. Copey, judge of the peace, has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Ben and Anna Green against James W. Haynes, who sued for $30 and recovered a judgment of $29.50 and costs on a claim for carpenter work performed on the garage owned by the defendants.

Schools And Lodges At Home Coming

Monday, August 27, is to be known as school and lodge day at the Greene County Home Coming to be held that week in Xenia. All the school children are urged to have a part. It is planned to have a parade and athletic events in which prizes will be given. The school children and lodge members are urged to watch for more definite information as to plans later.

ESTATE VALUED

Gross value of the estate of Emma Miller, deceased, is estimated at $2,800 in Probate Court, composed entirely of real estate. Debts, including the cost of administration, total $440.68, leaving a net value of $2,359.32.

Four-H Club Work Shows Marked Increase

The coming Ohio State Fair, August 27 to September 3, marking the tenth anniversary of the inauguration of Ohio's 4-H Clubs in the Fair schedule, bids fair to stand as a high spot in the history of the club. Increased membership and multiplied activity have made the club work more and more important each year. A new and valuable trophy is offered this year by state Director of Agriculture, Charles V. Truax, who is presenting a cup to the winner of the Dairy Production Club exhibit. This contest is one which goes on throughout the year and reaches a climax at the Fair. About 200 club members keep accurate account of the milk and butterfat record of their animals. The twenty heading the list bring their cows to the Fair and are awarded substantial money prizes. The Director's trophy cup will go to the winner of this contest in addition to a money prize.

Track Record Broken At County Fair

The Greene County Fair has been the attraction this week for great numbers of people. The weather was threatening Wednesday but cleared for the afternoon when some excellent racing was enjoyed. Interest was in the stake races for purses of $1,000 each. A number of horses were sent to the fair that have been on the grand circuit track this season. The display of agricultural machinery was unusual while in the art building could be found many interesting things. As in former years the club work by boys and girls proved great drawing cards. Almost every class was filled for entries in the livestock division. The fair had the usual number of amusement attractions.

POLITICAL POT WILL BOIL OVER BY ELECTION

With the primary election but twelve days away the pot has passed the simmering stage and now shows signs of boiling over. The scandal workers are very busy passing out dope over the county much after the fashion used in the April primary in an attempt to defeat Herbert Hoover. There is much discussion between the friends of the various candidates for the nomination on the Republican ticket for governor: Cong. James G. Begg, Myers Y. Cooper and Attorney General Edward Turner are the only outstanding candidates on the Republican side. On the Democratic ticket Cong. Davey and Lieutenant Governor Bloom are fighting for first place.

Two weeks ago the Anti-Saloon League politicians sought to connect with Cooper's (millionaire) bank account and give him an endorsement over the other three. Trouble broke in the League ranks and that organization is split. This week the State W. C. T. U. endorse Begg, Cooper and Shanley. No other qualifications is taken into consideration other than the wet and dry issue. Any candidate can be a utility tool to permit the public to be robbed. It was on this issue that Cooper met defeat two years ago. He was listed dry but connected with the utility interests. Turner is the only candidate that advocates a repeal of the Prohibition law in the interest of the public. Shanley is unknown over the state and not considered in the first three prospects.

In the list for lieutenant governor there are a host of candidates but John Brown of Champaign county seems to be the leading candidate. He is the author of the gasoline tax law.

As for nominations for other state offices the long list is lost sight of by the prominence of the governorship fight, which in itself should be second to some other offices that really are just as vital to the public. Let the utility crowd of bondholders control the office of the attorney general and it is going to be a sorry day for the consumers. The politicians fight among themselves for governor. This is a fact that he has the patronage to hand out. Little or no interest is given the court nominees, which can undo by decisions all that the legislature can construct.

In the county we find the women politicians really more active than the men. There is a reason of course for this, most of them are being paid for their services, and they use church organizations and different groups to spread their propaganda.

The latest from this angle is the passing in certain parts of the county of marked ballots. Certain of the feminine workers have made up a list and charge each candidate $5 to have his name marked on the preferred list. When you see the list you can count for yourself just how much the women have pulled down in the race. Candidates are not forced to contribute but they well know if they do not shake down the $5 they will go on the black list. You can judge for yourself about what plane politics is operated upon in Greene county.

One of the marked ballots was presented to us Wednesday and it was amusing to go over the list. We wish to sight two instances. Sheriff Ohmer Tate is announced for his second term. Below his name is written the name of John Baughman with an (x) before it. Baughman was badly defeated by Tate two years ago and was the Gowdy-Marshall candidate. Further down on the ballot was written the name of Dr. Ungard with an (x) showing the Dr. to be preferred to Coroner Chambers, who is out for his second term. It so happens that Dr. Ungard is also the regular candidate on the Democratic ticket for corner. Friends of Sheriff Tate, and there is no official in Greene county held in higher respect, will resent such acts, and no doubt vote accordingly and resent the tactics of the Marshall-Gowdy gang in using women to pass such marked ballots over the county.

Reports indicate that a political sheet is to appear just before the election and Xenia merchants are being solicited for advertising to help pay the cost. The campaign sheet is to be issued in behalf of the Gowdy-Marshall candidates. Look out for it. It will be the usual political handbill issued in the behalf of candidates and not for the political enlightenment of the voters. Hand bills have been passed before at election time, much to the sorrow of those that had an interest in such methods.

SOME WOMEN PROFIT IN POLITICS

A short number of years ago there was a vast amount of money used by candidates to hire political workers. As this practice continued the expense to candidates became greater. Public sentiment turned and it was not long until the candidate that had a great list of paid workers was about the easiest to defeat. The past few years we have few if any paid political workers in this county.

With the advent of women being given an equal status at the polls it was assumed that conditions would still be raised to a higher level. Instead the present year finds more paid women political workers than we have ever heard of.

This practice became more general two years ago when the millionaire candidates sought a governorship birth. It has been on the increase ever since. In the presidential primary in April the oil scandal money was used to employ certain women in the hope of defeating Herbert Hoover. We are very sorry to say that one Greene county woman that is supposed to head a so-called reform group was paid $200 for her services to pass the scandal used against Hoover. It was only a few weeks ago that a certain state candidate informed us this same woman offered her services in his behalf but he would have to put up $200 in advance. He declined the offer.

The time is now here to sift the grafting women politicians from the number of women that really have an interest in state and local affairs. The paid woman politician has but one object and that is to gain financial profit for herself and in this county we have some that have no other means of making a livelihood. They use any method possible to club certain people to accept their story and urge them to pass it on. It is not necessary to mention names. The public must stop and consider and if serious thought is given the matter you will at once satisfy yourself that these women represent no different standard of citizenship, than the ward heelers that used to lead a weak-minded voter behind some building to hand him two dollars to vote a certain ticket.

If the present practice is to continue on the part of the women politicians we will urge the men folks to take a hand also and help spread this financial prosperity in a wider circle, so that more people can benefit from it.

MOSQUITOS AND VACATIONISTS

The vacationist that decides to spend a week or so at some water resort usually makes up his mind that he will have the pesky mosquito to contend with. As we travel about, we find many beautiful summer resorts located where the mosquito has an abode. It seems to be taken for granted that the pest will be there and no complaint is made against it.

All of this is quite contrary to Cedarvillians who have had experience at home that has been anything but pleasant in dealing with the little fellows that taunt us in and out of doors. We are inclined to view the local situation for different after seeing what many summer resorts must contend with. These places have no paper mills within hundreds of miles to lay the blame on. Boggy places and swamps have been treated with oil but the mosquito comes just the same.

"In spite of mosquito abatement campaigns on a comprehensive scale, the mosquitoes this year are a greater nuisance than they have been for some years in many sections of the city and its suburbs. That is a depressing fact, but it might as well be faced.

"The season has been perfect for mosquitos. The mosquito breeds in standing water. Ordinarily there is little standing water in the Chicago region, and for that reason mosquito experts have said that the locality is not a natural mosquito range. The soaking rains of June and July have created a condition that is not ordinarily present and against which ordinary mosquito prevention methods have accomplished little.

"We do not believe that this year's experience justifies the conclusion that subsequent attempts at abatement will not succeed. It does, perhaps, whether the methods employed here are sound. There are few insects whose life histories and habits are as well known as those of the mosquito. Where the mosquito imperils life and health he has been eradicated in spite of natural conditions which favor his existence. The present situation does not prove that a persistent effort cannot accomplish the same result here."

A BIG CITY LOOKS TO THE FUTURE

Some months ago Chicago elected as mayor of the city, "Big Bill" Thompson, on a platform of an open town and "America for Americans." The city has had the open town plan with all that usually follows it. His Honor was so much aroused that he feared King George, of England, would eventually govern us so to create an adverse public sentiment he ordered certain public school text books be dropped that the younger generation might not know that England existed. This was all in his campaign promise to make Chicago a typical German city to capture that vote.

After months as head of the city, Thompson finds himself a discredited politician and his organization, including "gangland," disrupted. Bad management, poor police service, waste and graft in contracts, has turned the great majority of Chicago citizens away from his idol of only a few months ago. Thompson's first big blow dealt him was when the Hoover forces won last April. Gang politicians in Chicago as in Ohio, have no use for a man of Hoover's type. But the Thompsons, Coles, Pembertons, Daughertys, are slowly but surely being cast aside in national, state and municipal affairs. The public wants no more of that kind of government.

While Chicago has had a black eye under her present municipal government, the civic leaders have not lost hope and are striving to make the city bigger and better along all lines. From the many private improvements under way there is indication that these men face the future of the city with a willingness to carry on as if nothing had happened.

Away back in 1893 Chicago celebrated with the World's Fair, an exposition that started the entire world. Plans are now under way for another such event on a larger scale for 1933. At this date a new World's Fair grounds is being built by filling in a part of Lake Michigan. One might be inclined to think this an impossible task but it is not and could not be with the resources the city has.

Less than twenty-five years ago Lake Michigan covered the site of the famous Field Museum, an institution that is a university in itself. This site as well as a public park and several miles of beautiful boulevards would not be available had the lake not been filled in for that purpose. Visitors to Chicago twenty-five years ago and again this year can only see the magnitude of accomplishments. They also are convinced that Chicago will have a greater World's Fair five years hence than was witnessed by millions of people back in 1893.

The failure of one man as an executive of a great city is only temporary. Sometimes the public is fooled on false promises and strange doctrines but there will be another change in the near future. Chicago's reputation at present is not the best and it will be "Big Bill" Thompson's administration that will turn the city's face in another direction.

SPRING WHEAT CROP WILL BE ABOVE AVERAGE

A trip of more than 1,600 miles through the agricultural sections of Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota gives one a broad view of crop conditions and the prospects for the season.

From a crop standpoint interest centers in corn prospects. While there are thousands of acres of corn that can be seen on such a trip the most noticeable feature was a section here and there with excellent prospects, while another section could not be regarded favorable.

There are sections of Indiana and Illinois that will not have the usual corn crop. The cold wet weather evidently hurt the crop back.

As we neared Madison, Wisconsin, it was easily seen that the crop in that section of the state was about on par if not better, that in this section of Ohio. It was near LaCrosse, Wis., much farther north, that we found the corn further advanced and seldom was there a poor field. In Minnesota, which is not regarded a strictly corn producing state, were thousands of acres of good corn. In the northern part of Wisconsin the crop on the average will not be up to average.

The wheat crop after leaving Indiana and part of Illinois was good. In the spring wheat section it is reported excellent and a very large acreage that a week ago was being cut. Great tracts of oats and barley in all four states promises an unusually large crop.

Ohio farmers have reached the stage where a small amount of hay is harvested as in the years gone by. In the northern states there seems to be no end to the finest crop of timothy hay we have ever seen. In a few sections we find much sweet clover has been harvested.

If potatoes are one dollar a bushel this year the average farmer in the above mentioned states will have found his property. Hundreds of thousands of acres of potatoes are now in bloom and promise one of the largest crops in years. Rainfall has been more plentiful in Wisconsin and Minnesota according to indications as all kinds of vegetation looks the best.

While Wisconsin is a state of diversified agricultural interests it depends largely on the dairy branch and large dairy herds can be found everywhere. We were disappointed and expected to see more hope not only in Wisconsin but Minnesota. Hundreds of thousands of acres of fine pasture land abounded in each of these states but we recall of only two herds of feeding cattle that could be seen from the road. The dairy cattle in the main are Holstein.

Where fruit trees were found there was evidence of good crops. It was unusual for an Ohioan to find the northern orchards loaded with cherries ready for picking. The markets in the cities abounded with cherries and red raspberries around ten cents a quart.

Minnesota and Wisconsin are wonderful states and noted for their landscape views. Both have good roads that attract the tourist to the many lakes and watering places that abound. The state of Minnesota alone has more than 1,500 lakes.

Wisconsin has the best marked roads that we have yet had the pleasure to drive over. Hundreds and hundreds of miles of roads are cement or gravel oiled. President Coolidge has put Wisconsin on the map as a summer resort and the state is spending great sums to keep roads in perfect condition for the tourist. The state never before ever saw as many tourists as are crossing in every direction this year. New country has been opened with new roads that gives the traveler first hand information as to what the earlier settlers had to contend with in clearing the land and making it possible for people of modern civilization to enjoy today.

a new farm relief bill at a dinner speech in Washington as a guest of former Congressman R. Denver. He advocated the adoption of enormous wastes on the part of millions of dollars by scientific methods. His plan was the adoption of creating waste from the fact as has been done by Henry Ford and other manufacturers. Mr. Rice termed the McNary-Haughon proposed farm relief bill a "will of the wisp" that lures into dangerous bogs. To bring about the creation of waste help profit Mr. Rice advocated government aid as this was beyond the possibility of the individual farmer. By the government giving such aid it would be no different than the plan Ohio uses in supporting the county fairs.

Attorney Frank L. Johnson, a candidate for the Republican nomination to congress, is out with a new plan that is being discussed in neighboring counties in the district. As taxation is an important item not only to the farmer but to the average home owner, Mr. Johnson advocates that an amusement tax but created by the federal government to be used exclusively in support of the public schools of the country and by so doing the present tax could be disposed with. He contends that more than fifty per cent of all tax money goes to the support of the schools. Ohio rural school districts carry a heavy tax to support the schools to educate the young, most of whom enter vocations that take them to other states for permanent residence, or to the cities within their own state. By this method the productive power of the educated youth has not been retained in the district where the cost was levied in the form of taxes. Mr. Johnson contends that education is a national issue and by using the amusement tax for supporting the schools the cost would be carried equally over the entire country. His idea is something new in politics and wherever he has discussed the plan in the district it has created much comment.

Mr. John A. North, of Xenia, candidate for county commissioner was in town the first of the week in the interest of his candidacy for a second term for that office.

Although dairy herds of low-butterfat-producing cows require less feed and less man labor, the per-pound cost of the butterfat is greater than for herds of high producing cows.

Now that we have promises of a political sheet appearing previous to the election it would be interesting for the Gowdy-Marshall editors to publish the number of years J. C. Marshall has served as clerk of court deputy, also as clerk of court, probate judge, and the past two terms as prosecutor, stepping from one office to the other without a break. It would be more than interesting for the sheet to show just how much money Marshall has drawn from the county treasurer in the past twenty or more years. Having drawn well on to 85 or 40 thousand dollars of the tax payers money, would indicate that it is hard to leave the public test and get back to earning money by the sweat of the brow like the laborer, the farmer and the many women that are struggling over the wastebill to keep a family of children in food and clothing.

Marshall is now asking for a third term as prosecutor and has as his opponent Attorney William Howard, of Xenia, one of the highly esteemed members of the Greene County Bar. Mr. Howard has never before aspired to county office and if passing a good thing around is in order he should have the nomination for a number of reasons.

County government is supported by taxes taken from the home and farm owners. We are told that more farmers withdrew earnings from building and loans or borrowed money from banks to pay taxes this past month than at any time in the history of the country. There should be some explanation as to the cost of some of the branches of our county government. It cannot be denied that while taxpayers have had to borrow money to pay taxes Marshall's terms of prosecutor have been the most expensive of any prosecutor in the past fifty years. He has added a greater per cent of cost to county government than any other county official and this should have some bearing on your decision when you make your choice at the polls. It will also be recalled that his official operation as probate judge exhausted all funds for his office long before his term expired. It was even necessary for the State Bureau of Accounting order the County Auditor to stop payments of bills for Marshall in that the funds

His first surprise was to find the skier, not as he expected, within his reach, but still as far off as before; his amazement increased when he saw a wide extended region lying on the opposite side of the mountain; but it rose to astonishment when he beheld a country at a distance, more beautiful and alluring than even that he had just left behind.—Goldsmith, "The Citizen of the World."

A tough, durable finish for floors

Kitchen, bathroom, and hallway floors need an enamel finish that is extra tough and wear-resisting.

For these floors we recommend LOWE BROTHERS FLOOR ENAMEL. It is a finish that is easy to clean and one that will last. It has unusual spreading capacity and is very economical. It dries hard and smooth overnight. Also makes an excellent finish for kitchen walls and woodwork. Many colors from which to choose.

Ohio Near Front In Better Stock Drive

Ohio is first among 47 states in number of animals and poultry listed in the Better Sires—Better Stock campaign of the United States Department of Agriculture, according to the latest report of the federal bureau of animal industry for June 30, 1928. Ohio is not only first in the number of animals affected by the campaign but is second in the number of persons enrolled in the campaign. Ohio's enrollment is 4,008 persons. In Ohio there are listed 104,399 animals and 299,858 poultry.

During the quarterly period from March to June, 1928, enrollments were received from seven counties in three states. Among these counties the most work was done in Coshocton County, Ohio, where the enrollment was increased from 155 persons to 171. Only 44 counties in the United States have 100 or more persons enrolled. Of these 44, there are 10 Ohio counties listed. They are, in order of number of enrollments, Greene County, 860; Hardin County, 236; Delaware County, 229; Miami County, 221; Coshocton County, 171; Hancock County, 158; Guernsey County, 167; Belmont County, 146; Columbus County, 133; Henry County, 111.

New Plan For Stock Marketing

A more complete service in co-operative livestock marketing is planned for farmers of Fayette, Greene, Clinton, and Madison counties by the establishment of a branch of the Eastern States Company at Washington C. H., according to announcement made by F. G. Ketner, secretary of the Ohio Livestock Co-operative Association. J. H. Jefferson, manager of the Fayette Producers' Company will be in charge of the branch.

The Eastern States Company is owned and operated by livestock producers as an order buying service agency, developed largely in Ohio, and recently affiliated as part of the machinery of the National Livestock Producers' Association. With main offices at Columbus the company has branches at Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and is establishing them at Cincinnati, E. St. Louis, and St. Paul. It handled livestock valued at more than $7,000,000 last year.

The Washington C. H. branch will merchandise hogs direct to packer from the four county territory. Hogs will be sold on the basis of yield. A 90 per cent advance will be made to the individual farmer at the time of shipment and the final settlement will be made after the stock is on the hook at the packing plant. More than 1500 car loads of stock were sold in this way from Fayette county last year, and it is expected that the new branch will handle around 3,000 decks of stock annually.

The branch at Washington C. H. is the first of its kind to be established. Others are expected to be placed in Ohio and Indiana later. A committee consisting of Jesse Hankins, president of the Fayette Producers' Company, Fred Darn, director of the Madison Livestock Company, and F. G. Ketner, general manager of the Eastern States Company has been in charge of details of setting up the new branch.

No change in the local livestock association will be made, but Manager A. A. Conklin of this county will use the new service in direct to packer shipment of hogs. Stock to terminals will continue to go through the local association to farmer-owned commission associations.

VOTE FOR JOHN A. NORTH for his second term as County Commissioner

FRANK I. BROWN

Republican Candidate for
Judge of Court of Appeals
Dayton

The vacancy to be filled occurs in Dayton. There are three judges on this court. The eastern section now has two of them and a candidate for third judge.

Frank I. Brown is the only Republican candidate presented by the west half of the district. The great volume of business in the western section makes it necessary to have a resident judge in the west half.

At this term of court there were 88 cases in Montgomery County, and 2 cases in Madison County, home of the eastern candidate. What more should be said? Turn the picture around. We ask you to give some thought to this and act on your honest judgment.

Respectfully,
BEN JENNINGS,
Manager for Mr. Brown.

SUMMER HEALTH TALKS

REST

Sponsored by the Ohio Public Health Association

Everybody has known for a long time that all work and no play make Jack a dull boy. Only during more recent years has medical science begun to emphasize that all work and worry and no rest make Jack and the other members of Jack's family sick men and women, old before their time.

Rest is the greatest medicine in the world. It is the leading factor in the cure of tuberculosis, colds, and heart disease. It plays a prominent part in the relief of practically every other ailment to which man is heir.

If rest is so valuable in restoring the broken down human machine, it seems reasonable that, if given a chance, it can do much to prevent the breaking. No labor on the Sabbath day is good physical as well as religious advice. A vacation some time in the year with a change of scene and activity may mean less weeks in the long run. After all one is a long time dead, and can well spare a few months from eternity for the enjoyment of this world.

Current legend has it that Thomas A. Edison can work and achieve greatly by twenty out of the twenty-four hours in a day. But then, Edison can do a good many other things the average citizen cannot do. Most people need at least eight hours of sleep every night, at least one day of rest every week, and at least two weeks of vacation every year.

When more people can learn to stop occasionally for repairs, there'll be fewer of the impending half their lives with one foot in the grave and the other dragging wearily along the ground.

Great Montgomery County Fair

The 77th Annual Montgomery County Fair, at Dayton, Ohio, will open Labor Day, Sept. 3rd, and continue for 4 days and 4 nights. This year's program is the greatest ever offered by any Fair Association and will surpass any previous Fair ever held at Dayton.

I. L. Holderman, Secretary and Manager, says with his three years' experience in day and night Fairs that he is taking advantage of this experience and is offering to the public a much bigger and better exposition than has ever been shown at a County Fair.

Monday, September 3rd, (Labor Day) will open with a Big Horse Show both afternoon and evening. Three Harness races—2:14 trot, purse $500.00 and 2:11 pace, purse $500.00 and a one mile dash run. The 12th annual Auto and Truck Show will be in full swing with latest models on display. Large and better exhibits of live stock and poultry, big agricultural and horticultural exhibits, farm and grange display, etc., will be shown.

The Fine Art, Domestic Mfg. and Provision departments will be bigger and better than ever. The Dayton Art Institute will occupy the entire first floor of the Art Hall, showing the best paintings of American artists and local professional work of art students, etc. The Dayton Fair is the only COUNTY Fair showing paintings and work shown heretofore in public art museums.

The Free Acts and Fireworks display will be the best and greatest ever shown at any State Fair. These acts are shown every afternoon and night during the entire Fair week. The Jaring Prince Nelson, high wire artist, 100 feet in the air, see of dare-devils will appear twice daily. Haas Bros. Trio, comedy acrobats; world renowned Finks Comedy Circus, with dogs, mules, monkeys and ponies, the greatest out-door attraction on the road, are contracted to appear during the entire week. There are six other big acts and the fireworks of such grandeur and splendor, entirely new and different, will attract the attention of the thousands of patrons of the Fair, far exceeding any ever shown heretofore.

Tuesday (Sept. 4th), will be Children's Day when all the schools will be closed and all children admitted to the Fair free, with the usual racing and stock showing, etc., program to prevail.

Wednesday, (Sept. 5th), Soldiers' Day and Ladies' Day when all Soldiers of all wars will be admitted free. Full day of racing, judging, etc., to prevail. Thursday, (Sept. 6th), Farmers' Day, with a parade of all prize winning live stock, races, etc.

We are authorized to announce the name of John A. North as a candidate for County Commissioner, second term, at the Republican primary in August.

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election to the office of County Commissioner at the Republican Primary election in August.

COLLEGE NEWS

Miss Lydia A. ... who will have charge of the College Department of Music during the coming year, was in town recently making various plans and arrangements.

Miss Berkeley has had wide experience as a teacher and organizer and comes to us highly recommended. She is most enthusiastic about the work here and the great possibilities for the Department of Music.

All who expect to take work in the Department of Music should come to the College office to register between 10 A. M. and 4 P. M. any day of the week.

All who wish to prepare for teaching either in high schools or in the elementary grades will find Cedarville College fully equipped for the work. Cedarville College is recognized by the Department of Education of Ohio for the training of high school and elementary teachers. A larger percentage of the graduates of Cedarville College this year than from most of the other state schools have positions for next year. Nearly all of the graduates of this year class in Cedarville College have positions.

Cedarville College was opened for instruction September 19, 1894. The first commencement was held in June, 1897. Out of some two thousand students who have attended Cedarville College, three hundred and eighty-four have graduated. They are distributed in different countries as follows: Alabama, 1; Arizona, 1; California, 4; China, 2; Colorado, 3; Egypt, 1; Florida, 5; Georgia, 1; Illinois, 12; India, 1; Indiana, 8; Iowa, 1; Kansas, 1; Kentucky, 4; Massachusetts, 1; Minnesota, 1; Mississippi, 1; Missouri, 3; Nebraska, 2; North Carolina, 2; North Dakota, 1; New Jersey, 2; New York, 12; Ohio, 250; Pennsylvania, 13; Rhode Island, 1; Scotland, 1; South Carolina, 1; Texas, 2; Washington, 2; Washington, D. C., 2; West Virginia, 2; Wisconsin, 2. Of the three hundred and eighty-four graduates, eighteen are deceased, the rest are distributed in different occupations, as follows: teachers, 140; ministers, 40; farmers, 17; housewives, 6; lawyers, 5; physicians, 12; in business, 22; post-graduates, 5; drugists, 1; judges, 1; prosecuting attorneys, 1; managers, in various firms, 4; stenographers, 3; missionaries, 2; in various other pursuits, 10.

Professors Borst and Steele have called on more than 400 high school graduates. Out of this number, they find quite a good number who are coming to Cedarville College.

From among our graduates last June, the following have notified us that they have been elected to positions: David Adair, Ashtabula Harbor, Ohio; Wilda Bickett, Jamestown, Ohio; Paul Brown, Academy in Maine; Ruth Burns, Selma, Ohio and public school music as State Normal teacher; Albert Hemphill, Junior High in Colorado; Marguerite Donaldson, New Milford, Ohio; Herman LeMar, Frankfort, Ohio; Lelia LeMar, Bowesville, Ohio; Gladys MacDonald, Butler, Ohio; William Nagley, Belmont, Ohio; Lois Settle, Pichin, Ohio; Evelyn Anders, West Carrollton, Ohio; Christine Smith, Beaver Creek; Macy Rector, East Point school. Eleven others have not reported; probably some or most of them have placed. At any rate, so far 60 per cent of all who are seeking positions have secured them. One of the largest State Normals in Ohio, a little over a week ago, had only 15 per cent of its graduates located.
